Script 3: 📌 First-time home buyer? Read this before you sign anything.

If you're buying your first house, then check out this list of the 5 things you must know before signing on the dotted line.

1. Confirm that the builder is registered under RERA before you make an initial deposit.
2. Customary carpet area as opposed to super built-up area.
3. You will want to understand when the builder wants to receive payment from you (i.e., construction-linked vs. full payment).
4. Maintenance fees add up over time, so be sure to ask about them now.
5. You should independently verify the title of the property.
6. At [Brand Name], we believe that knowledgeable buyers become happy homeowners, which is why we provide free 30-minute consultations to provide you with the entire process without any sales pressure.
